FIRE IN THE COAL BUNKERS OF AN OCEAN STEAMER.

Steamship Cachemiere Carries Load of Passengers Day After Day Over a Fiery Furnace But None Knew It.

An Awful Ten Days

New York, Aug. 11.—The Steamship Cachemiere has arrived in this port with 16) Italian steerage passengers on board.
It was learned to-day for the first time that for ten days of the voyage the vessel and all on board of her were in imminent and continuous danger of the gravest char-

When the steamer was but one day out from Marseilles it was reported to the captain that the soft coal in the bunkers was on fire. He at once gave orders that the strictest secrecy should be observed as, if the news spread among the passengers, it would be impossible to avert a panic. Immediate steps were taken to quench the fire, but it had already gained serious headway. The pumps were put to work and heavy streams of water were poured upon the piles of coal and upon the deck above it. This was kept up for day and night for ten days, and not till the end of that time was the fire entirely extinguished. The captain and crew were on almost continuous duty during that time and were

Two Awful Accidents LEAVENWORTH, Aug. 9.-G. E. Lonsdale and his wife, with Miss Sue Powers and Master Ray Powers, of Ellsworth, were run over by a Santa Fe train as they were crossing the track in a spring wagon in this city yesterday, and Mrs. Lonsdale and Miss Powers were killed. The boy was perhaps fatally injured. The crossing where the accident occurred has always been considered a dangerous one, but no accidents have ever before occurred there. Joe Fortune was engineer of the train and states that it was running at the rate of about fifteen miles per hour. The accident occurred on the government reservation and a complete investigation will be instigated by the governor

SENECA, Kas., Aug. 9 .- Hon. A. H. Burnett and family, in a carriage, were struck by the west bound passenger train on the Rock Island railroad. He and his granddaughter, Miss Francis Fuller, were killed outright. Mrs. George Finstenberg and two children were badly hurt. Six were in the carriage, which was demolished.

ALABAMA CRIME.

A Terrible State of Affairs Existing in Bibb County.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 11.—A terrible state of affairs exists in Bibb county. Some two weeks ago the dead body of Henry Smith was found in the woods near Blockton. He was a witness in a murder case against Jesse Miller, a rich farmer, and who is popularly supposed to be the head and front of a gang who have been terrorizing that county, and against whom the citizens have organized vigilance com-

Blockton is patrolled day and night by vigilants and the witnesses for the state are kept under guard to prevent them from being murlered. Good citizens from every part of the county will gather at Centerville to-morrow fully armed to guard the criminals from a rescue

A Sirocco in South Dakota.

St. LAWRENCE, S. D., Aug. 11.-The hottest weather ever experienced here has prevailed for three days past. So intense has been the heat that men and animals have succumbed in many instances and harvest work is entirely suspended through the day. At I p. m. yesterday the mercury rose to 108 to 110 in the shade, The wind was in a southern direction but hot and dry, possessing no refreshing qualities. Late wheat suffered terribly and some fields will not be cut. Other wheat is all right. Unless showers come very soon or a cool wave comes, but little will survive the ordeal. Prairie grass in some places is dry enough to burn. Some prairie fires have already been reported.

Four Lynched at Once.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug 9.—Last Friday the residence of W. P. Davis, a prominent farmer near Crosby, was burned and the family narrowly escaped with their lives. On Sunday Eila Williams, colored, was arrested and confessed to having saturated the house with oll and set fire to it out of revenge. In her confession she implicated Lizzle Lowe, Willis Lowe and Bill Willlams. Yesterday the sheriff started from Crosby to Abbeville jail with the prisoners, and last night he was overpowered by a mob and the prisoners taken from him and shot to death. Their bodies were brown in the river.

Killed His Father.

CINCINNATI Aug. 11.—Charles Neimann, aged 20, shot and instantly killed George Neimann, his father. George Neiman was a cobbler and lived at 18 Gorman street. He had been divorced from his wife, but still lived in the same house with her and her children. He had frequent quarrels with his family and divorced wife, and this mornings tragedy was the culmination of one of these disputes.

Four Drowned.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11 .- Four young people, children of prominent Milwaukee business men, were drowned at Lake Pewaukee, twenty miles from here. They were out in a small sail boat with three other young people. A squall struck the boat, capsizing it. It was heavily ballasted and sunk almost immediately, leaving the seven persons struggling in the water.

A Scarcity of Corn. St. Petersburg, Aug. 9.—The Russian imperial council has decided to prohibit the exportation of corn from this country, owing to the bad harvest in Russia, which has caused a scarcity of this cereal.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 11.—The amount of the shortage of Sylvester Young, de-faulting cashier of the Newport News & Mississippi Valley railroad, is now known | deed for $350,000, in favor of the Union to be at least $18,000 instead of $25,000, as Trust Company, of St. Louis, has been first supposed. Further investigation filed by the Topeka Water and Electric may add slightly to this. Young has not Power Company with the register of been heard from.

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The Meeting at Detroit a Great Success-Forty Thousand Veterans in Line. DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 6 .- The Grand Army encampment was a most pronounced success. The day of the parade was the proudest in the history of the organization. It was the grandest display made in the quarter century of ils existence. Under a bright sun, 40,000 veterans tramped sturdily over the line of march, and such was the inspiration of the moment, that even the feeblest of the maimed and crippled comrades found themselves adequate to the ordeal of the five miles march. The euthusiasm which greeted the Wisconsin division of 700 strong was unbounded. In the front rank and berne high in the air and on the top of a flagstaff was perched "Oh! Abe," the stuffed eagle which became a part of Wisconsin's history a quarter of a century ago. Cheer after cheer arose from the multitude. side atory to his children.

To record the features of the procession n detail would be impossible in the space at command. The states were all represented, from Michigan with its 15,000 to South Carolina with its single man. Kansas was not high in the light of numbers. on account of the perversity of the railroads, but was largely represented in the enthusiasm that prevailed. Missouri turned out large numbers and attracted much attention.

In the line, marching with the rank and file were many of the prominent men of the nation. The Grand Army levels all distinctions. There was a wild cheer when Missouri veterans hove in sight. It was this state which had furnished William Warner, one of the most popular commanders-inchiuf the G.A.R. has ever known, and every man who marched in line was recognized as one who in his devotion to the Union had undergone the dangers of guerilla warfare and seen families divided against themselves in the dark days of '63. Department Commander George W. Martin, the one-armed hero, who lost a limb the first day of Gettysburg, led his command of 800 men.

The spectacle of an ex-president of the United States marching in the ranks is so musual that the tremendous evation tendered ex-President Hayes to-day was hardly a surprise. The cheers which swept along the line of march like a huge but slowly rising tidal wave were ever indicative of the presence of the distinguished ex-president.

Mr. Hayes was recognized by all as he marched with his post from Fremont, O., down Griswold street, and near the intersection of Congress street kissed several old gentleman carried a palm leaf fan and much as his comrades of the post.

The governor of a state is not often seen criy love and k trudging along in the dust with the boys, the broad land. but that sight was witnessed more than once. As the Nebraska G. A. R., 500 strong, with Department Commander Vandervoort, past national commander-in-

There were four candidates for commander-in-chief: John Palmer, of New York; A. G. Weissart, Wisconsin; W. P. Smedbury, California, and S. H. Hurst, Ohio. General Palmer was elected on the second ballot amidst great enthusiasm. Gen. Palmer has a splendid record as a soldier. T. S. Clarkson was chosen vice-commander-in-chief. The committee on the "color" question reported adversely to Gen. Veasey's proposition to create a separate department for colored men, and the report was adopted spontaneously. Major William Warner of Kansas City was chairman of the committee, and he made a telling speech in favor of the colored soldiers.

A Fearful Railroad Wreck.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 8.—The St. Louis ex-press on the West Shore railroad met with train was burned with the exception of moking car, a day car and three sleeping cars. The accident was the result of care essness on the part of the rear brakeman of the freight train, or by negligence on the part of the freight conductor. Twentythree people were injured.

He Made Slaves of Them.

OMARA, Aug. 9 .- Rev. Dr. Sherwood, a colored evangelist who has been holding out at a cumpmeeting in South Omaha, has been arrested, charged with horribly misreating a number of colored lads whom he had taken from the orphan asylum and had practically enslaved. Sherwood trained the boys as musicians and formed them into a band. He made them work all hours of the day and night and took their earnings from them allowing them each 10 cents a day for food.

A Kansas Horse Thief.

WICHITA, Kas., Aug 8.—David Sprague, the noted horsethief who broke jail at Mc-Pherson, Kas., last month, has been heard from near Superior Neb. After breaking jail at McPherson, Sprague stole a team near Newton, and then found his way into Barbour county, where he stole some more norses. He was corralled on the banks of the Nescaturga by a posse of farmers and to escape jumped into the river and disappeared. It was thought he was drowned

The "Silent Army."

DETROIT, Aug., 7 .- A national convenion which has not had its parallel in the history of nations, met in this city yesterday lent Army." At 11:45 o'clock to-night the bank robber was still at large and the chase has been abandoned until daylight. Almost everybody in the northern part of Allen county has been out all day looking for the desperado.

INGALLS IN THE SOUTH.

The Kansas Statesman Before a Large Southern Audience,

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 6.-Ex-Senator ingails lectured at Piedmont, Chautauqua, to-night on the social and political problems of the second century. He was greeted by a great crowd. Mayor Hemphill, of Atlanta, introduced him, saying:

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:-The war is over and the bloody chasm has been filled. I want to tell you in a few words why this is true. When a confederate soldier in the south under the star spangled banner little girls who ran out to meet him. The can introduce with warmth and cordiality to a southern audience, Hon. J. J. Ingalls, appeared to enjoy the occasion quite as of Kansas, the most sceptical in this nation may know and feel that peace, brotherly love and kind feeling reign all over

The warmth and cordiality of this greet-Teeter and Governor Thayer, passed the bill when that infamous measure was beaired by the whole American people-the Hon. J. J. Ingalis, of the great state of Kansas."

A Remarkable Desperado.

TABLEQUAR, I. T., Aug. 11.—The Cher-ckee Indians are celebrating the death of ne of the most noted of Indian desperdoes that ever lived. His history was the most remarkable in the known world. He died one year ago at the age of 96 years at peace with his people, but most of his life had been passed in warfare against mankind. To-day the Cherokee people are celebrating the anniversary of his death as a holiday. This Indian was old Tom Starr, who for a quarter of a century was a terror to the whole Cherokee nation,

Murdered by Indians.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., Aug. 8.—It is now believed that Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly, who were found murdered on Monday, were killed by an Indian. Some years ago Mrs. Donnelly shot and wounded an Indian who was attempting to break in her home, and he swore to be revenged on her. An Indian was seen in that neighborhood the morning of the murder, and a large number of them were in this city all that day.

HAVANA, Tex., Aug. 11.-Those who have lived twenty-five years on the Rio-Grande have never seen such misery among the Mexican population as this year. The staple crop of the Rio Grande valley is corn and the Mexican frijole, but the drouth has been so terrible for the last eighteen months that scarely anything has been raised, and stock has died by thousands

But of all Chinese feasts the New Year is a een broken by a heavy rain. Corn has regular bacchanalia, in which days before and weeks after are given to feasting and rejoicing.

During the last days of the old year the scene in a large city like Canton is one of intense interest to a foreigner. The merchants hurrying hither and thither, collecting and paying debtsfor all accounts must be satisfactorily adjusted or else the business cannot by carried into the next year. Not only are the business parts of the town alive with thronging multitudes during the day, but at night instead of everything being promptly closed at 9 o'clock as is usual the midnight pedestrian will find a perfect chaos of movables and a bedlam of voices. Stores are being deluged with water and the walls are being scrubbed; ornamental scrolf paper and charms of good luck are torn down; the tiled floor is getting its annual but probably only cleaning it has had during the year. After this is done the walls are redecorated and new charms and gods are pasted up or set in the windows and show-cases.

In private houses the same cleaning process is going on; all the dirt of the year is being removed. When this is done the finest ornaments that are possessed are brought out and displayed on the tables; embroidered covers are placed on the chairs and stands, and the whole house is put in holiday attire. One of the great features of the decorations is the display of "sacred lilies," It is desirable that they should bloom on New Year's day, and the more flowers on the plant the better will be the fortune of the family owing to it during the year to

Up to midnight on New Year's eve this excitement continues; then, as if by magic, the noise and turmoil cease, only to be renewed in the morning with recoubled energy. This, in short, is the Chinese New Year.—St. Louis Republic.

PRUDENCE IN MOURNING.

She Spent as Little as Possible and Accomplished Her Purpose. The economy which is too strong to e disturbed by grief or so akin to avarice that no one feels any self repreach for holding it up to ridicule, although the circumstances may have to do with the saddest of events. There was once an eccentric old lady who lived in one of the seaport towns of New England, and who was renowned alike for her oddities and for what her neighbors called her "nearness." She was a widow, and had inherited not a little property from her husband, which she carefully handled and which increased in her care. It was made a matter of reproach that she did not erect a tombstone to her husband, but she always said that she could not afford such an expense. In course of time, however, the widow made up her mind to have a tablet, and accordingly went to Boston to select it. She visited one marble yard after another, but for a long time could find nothing cheap enough to suit her. At last she came upon a large and handsome slab which was set aside to be cut down.

"You see it was spoiled," the stone cutter explained. We began it for a man named Mark, but the wife changed her mind by the time we had got so much of the name on, and there is the whole slab spoiled." "Til take it off your hands," the widow said promptly. 'if you'll let me have it reasonably."

"Oh, I'll let you have it very cheap, to save the bother of having it cut over. But what can you do with it?" "I'll use it," she answered, and at once proceeded to go into the discussion of the price.

When she had at last beaten the stone-cutter down to an absurdly low figure, the widow bought the slab. "There," she said, 'now what I want you to do is to put the perfect man' after that word in the same sort date can go just there." She indicated to the astonished stone-cutter with her long finger the disposition of the inscription, and thus it came about that in a certain wellknown cemetery of her native city her husband sleeps under a marble whereupon the world is admonished to "Mark the perfect man!"-Youth's Companion.
